This Weekend's Worship

Lenten Series: Roll Down, Justice

Sermon: "I Choose Love: Communities of Forgiveness"

Scripture: Luke 23:32-43

Guest preacher: Rev. Betsy Thompson will be leading worship this Sunday. The scripture reading will be Luke 23:32-43.

Prayer of Preparation

We come before you, O Grace Itself, knowing that we hold onto resentment, distancing ourselves by a wall of fear or anger. Open us to your refreshing water of life. When we are faced with a choice, help us choose a love that moves us closer to compassion and courage to speak up and stand up for what is right and good.

"Roll Down, Justice" Poetry by Bishop LaTrelle Miller Easterling.

Among the many wonderful resources for worship provided by our Worship Design Studio Lenten worship series, "Roll Down, Justice", are profound poems written by Bishop LaTrelle Miller Easterling. I shared one of those poems during worship last Sunday, "Before It's Too Late". Bishop LaTrelle Easterling is the episcopal servant and leader of the Baltimore-Washington Conference, the oldest and most diverse annual conference in The United Methodist Church. Her voice is one of prophetic calls for justice. Read more about her justice work here. I look forward to sharing more of her poetry with you during Lent.

Nightbirde's Songs of Lament

On Sunday, March 13, I shared some of the writing of Jane a.k.a. 'Nightbirde' who became a worldwide sensation after her "America's Got Talent" audition. She was battling Stage III breast cancer and shared a song she wrote about the journey, "It's OK". Her strength and vulnerability were appreciated by many, especially those who could identify with her honest lament, not holding back her anger and frustration with God and knowing that speaking that lament brought her closer to God, not farther from God.

"Call me bitter if you want to—that's fair. Count me among the angry, the cynical, the offended, the hardened. But count me also among the friends of God. For I have seen [God] in rare form. I have felt His exhale, laid in His shadow, squinted to read the message He wrote for me in the grout: "I'm sad too." Nightbirde died February 19, 2022, but not without leaving us with words that expressed so eloquently our human struggle with the divine. Read more of her work here.

Covid Protocols at Church

The Session has decided to slowly ease off the covid restrictions between now and April 1st. Some of these changes will continue as they have proven helpful beyond Covid needs.

Current Protocol Includes...

- Congregational singing while masked during our worship services.
- Live music from the Praise Band and soloists without masks, but at a distance.
- Removal of distancing ribbons from the outside rows of pews.
- Use of all rooms in the building (including the Dining Room) for meetings and gatherings of church groups and other community groups.
- Facebook Live and Vimeo recordings of worship.
- Using screens and website for the Order of Worship.
- Collect offering at the door.
- Gather outside after worship if weather permits.

Starting April 1st if Community Spread Stays Low...

- The kitchen will be open and available for use.
- Masking will become welcome, but not required.
- All other COVID-19 protocol will be lifted.

Please note: while we hope that it will not be necessary to reintroduce mask wearing or social distancing, we do not know what the future brings. If the situation changes, we will enact whatever restrictions are necessary for the wellbeing and health of the congregation and all those who use our building.

Presbyterian Disaster Relief: Ukraine

The Presbyterian Church (U.S.A.) launched an appeal for funds to help support the Church's humanitarian response to the Ukraine crisis.

The situation is on pace to become Europe's largest refugee crisis this century. All neighboring countries are keeping their borders open to Ukrainian refugees. PDA is addressing Ukrainian refugee needs through their International Refugee Program (DR000156). Read more here.

To donate: Donations to Presbyterian Disaster Relief's efforts for Ukrainians can be made online here or through the church. All donations sent through the church should be marked "Ukraine".

Funeral & Memorial Services Policy Update

When the time comes to plan a funeral or memorial service for a loved one there are many details to address. The church can provide leadership for worship planning and help for the reception, but the remaining details are best handled by a funeral home. Funeral homes are our partners in ministry during the difficult time of laying to rest those we love.

There is a growing trend for families to forego the help of a funeral home when planning funerals and memorials. When this is the case, many additional responsibilities are put on the family and the staff and volunteers of churches. Unfortunately, churches often do not have the needed resource to take up these responsibilities.

It is becoming increasingly common for congregations in our area to require funeral home involvement to use church facilities for such services. This way, families are given the space to grieve, and congregations can focus on offering the spiritual support they need, while our funeral home partners take care of the details.

For these reasons, the First Presbyterian Church Session unanimously voted to instate this policy going forward:

"All families wishing to hold a funeral or memorial service at First Presbyterian Church of Cedar Falls shall employ services of a funeral home."

We appreciate your understanding on this matter. Contact us if you have questions.

Thank You

Thank you for the prayers and concern you have shown for my parents and Tim. My Dad has no issues after recovering from his fall, and they both had just mild symptoms of covid. Tim is making great progress using his new knee. The support from my church family means a lot to me and them.
